

Prieto Pariente

CONFINES DE PRIETO PARIENTE

2014

CONFINES DE PRIETO PARIENTE

This wine originates from two old vineyards in the mountain area Sierra de Gredos.

Confines de Prieto Pariente is a wine that reflects the combination of slate and granite soils. The slate provides a minerality that is transformed into volume and corpulence, and the granite is characterised by its verticality and finesse. The altitude of the vineyards gives the necessary acidity in order to balance all of the above. The result is a complex and balances wine with freshness and elegance.

VARIETY

The variety is 100% Garnacha.

The grapes come from two vineyards localised in the Sierra de Gredos: Cebreros and San Bartolomé de Pinares.

CEBREROS

SOIL. Pizarra soil, at 1005 metres of altitude.

YEAR OF PLANTATION. 1922

YIELD. 2100 kg/ha

SAN BARTOLOMÉ DE PINARES

SOIL. Granite soil, at 1059 metres of altitude.

YEAR OF PLANTATION. 1935

YIELD. 1800 kg/ha

WINEMAKING

Spontaneous alcoholic fermentation with controlled temperature, and malolactic fermentation, in stainless steel tanks. After fermentation, the wine ages for 17 months in French oak barrels of 600 litres.

Number of bottles: 2146 and 60 Magnum

Date of bottling: 12th of April 2016

Alcohol: 14,5 %